

ANA expands network with new routes to Milan, Stockholm, Istanbul

- A Monitor Report

Date: 01 August, 2024

Tokyo : All Nippon Airways, Japan's largest and five-star airline for 11 consecutive years, on July 19 announced the addition of three new destinations on its 2024 winter schedule: Milan, Stockholm and Istanbul.

ANA will continue to expand its international network. The new direct flights from Tokyo Haneda Airport will begin on the following dates: Milan Malpensa Airport-December 3, 2024; Stockholm Arlanda Airport-January 31, 2025; and Istanbul Airport-February 12, 2025.

About the development, Shinichi Inoue, President and CEO, ANA, said, "These new routes reflect ANA's commitment to meet the increasing demand for travel between Japan and each country. We hope this expansion provides our travelers with greater choice, new customer experiences and reinforces our commitment to a seamless and enjoyable journey. We are proud to have Paris and Munich on a daily flight and resume the Vienna route from August. We look forward to seeing where these new routes will take our travellers as we continue to enhance our management vision 'Uniting World in Wonder'."

ANA will launch its first ANA scheduled flight to/from Haneda to Milan. Stockholm will be ANA's eighth destination in Europe and is expected to enhance convenience for passengers connecting to the Nordic region. The Istanbul route will provide improved connectivity to the Middle East and Africa via Istanbul's extensive hub network. In addition, Haneda-Vienna route will resume in August 2024.

ANA's expanded network is expected to further facilitate growth in bilateral exchanges and business demand between Japan and each countries.
